

NWT HEALTHY COMMUNITIES Toolkit

Food is part of celebration, ceremony, social functions, learning opportunities and is one of our best ways to bring people together.

There are certain times when we should 'just enjoy' food and with so many occasions to offer food, we have plenty of opportunity to promote healthy choices for our people by ensuring that healthy foods are available almost all of the time.

Serving healthy foods in communities means having healthy food selections at all community activities that include food such as: community programs, gatherings, meetings and special events as well as part of fundraising events. Serving healthy foods starts with the types of food offered as well as the amount of food offered.

Healthy Eating at COMMUNITY EVENTS

Use the Guide to Plan your food & beverage choices:

All community events should focus on the main messages from the Canada's Food Guide and Eating Well with Canada's Food Guide – First Nations, Inuit, and Metis. These food guides are an important tool for individuals, families, and communities to learn about and share ways of eating well, including traditional and store-bought foods.

Offer Healthy Eating Options that include:

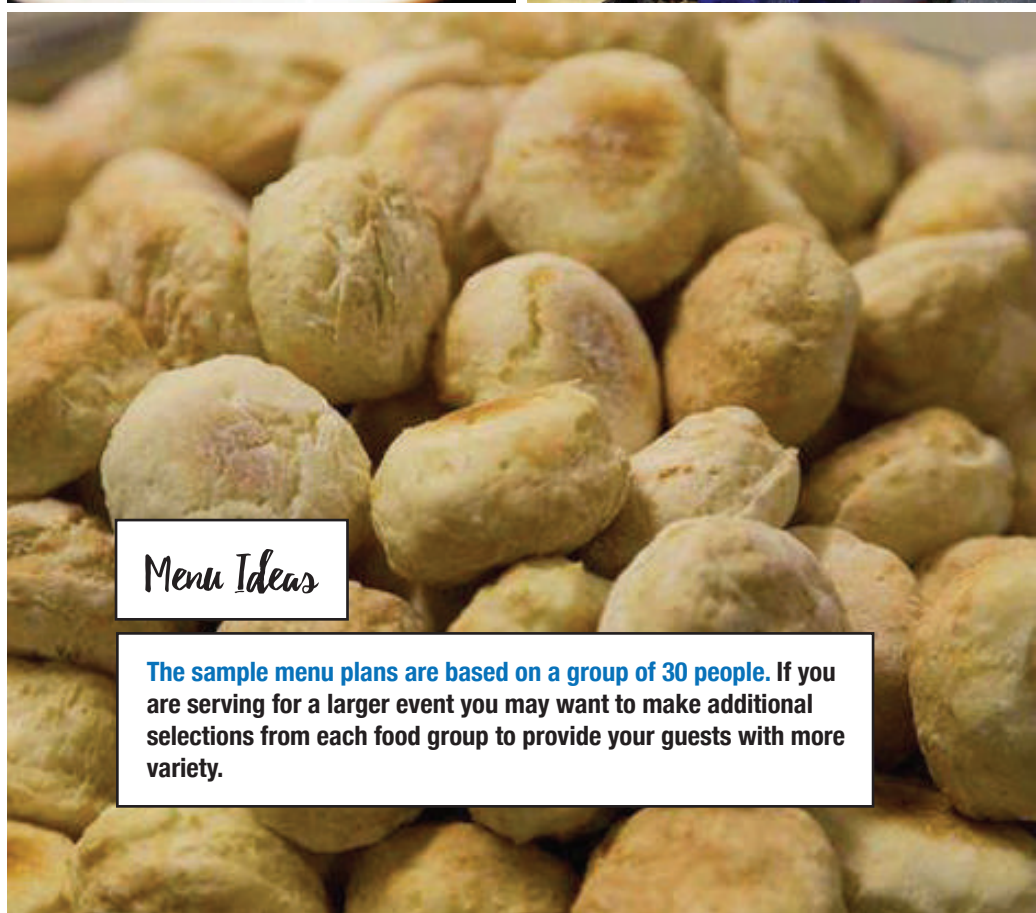

- Vegetables and Fruit more often
- Offer a variety of whole grain products
- Offer skim, 1% or 2% milk
- Offer lower fat milk alternatives (yogurt/cheese)
- Provide smaller portion sizes
- Offer plain water in pitchers or water coolers
- Buy or use local products when they are available (i.e.: traditional foods, etc.)
- Include Physical Activity opportunities
- Choose tobacco-free facilities
- Ensure food safety
- Choose greener options when possible

Traditional Foods:

Each year we affirm our identity and reinforce our ties to our indigenous food system and territories by harvesting & eating our traditional foods.

Our traditional food remains an important aspect of social and cultural events, all of which center traditional food as an important aspect of being who we are.

We thank the moose, caribou, char, whitefish, ducks, geese, ptarmigan, seal, berries, roots and medicines and they in turn nourish our bodies and spirits and help protect our body from illness and remind us of our past and help us think about our future.

Tip for serving healthy food & bringing down costs!

Offering prepared foods can eat away at your food budget. Many pre-prepared foods are high in calories, fat, salt or sugar and cost more. Keeping pre-prepared and low nutrient snacks off the table and out of school can save money and can be good for your community's health and waistline.

- Plant a garden to support school meals and community events. Can the vegetables in the fall or freeze for later use
- Choose Frozen or canned vegetables and fruit - they are affordable and nutritious options. Ensure that you always have frozen vegetables on hand, they are a great back up when you have not been able to re-stock fresh groceries.
- Hold a community canning event
- Use beans, lentils and other legumes instead or meat or in addition to meat in soups, stews, chili.
- Stock up on canned goods and staples when they are on sale. Store them safely and use them up by their "best-before" date.
- Skip the cookies, baked goods, chips and other salty snack foods, soft drinks and other high calorie beverages. They cost a lot and are low in nutrients. Stick to the four food groups and buy the basics.

Healthy Treats for Celebrations:

Celebrations often mean lots of sugar and there are some healthy treat options out there. Healthy treating means serving a good variety of food that is more nutritious along with smaller amounts of higher sugar, higher fat treats. There can be a place for a sweet treat.

Here are some ideas:

- Chocolate Milk
- Fruit and Veggie Plate with Yogurt Dip
- Yogurt tubes
- Milk puddings
- Popcorn (Smart Pop)
- Pita chips and Salsa
- Dried Meat or Beef jerky
- Baked chips
- Mini carrot or fruit muffins
- Fruit skewers
- Sorbet
- Fruit Smoothies

Guidelines:

1. Community members are interested in choosing healthier foods and beverages, being physically active, staying tobacco-free, caring for our environment and supporting local products. What we eat and level of physical activity can be positively influenced by healthy and supportive policies where we live, learn, work, and play. Foods such as vegetables, fruits, whole grains, lower fat milk products and leaner meats help to prevent chronic diseases.
2. All community events will focus on the main messages from the Canada's Food Guide and Eating Well with Canada's Food Guide – First Nations, Inuit, and Metis. These food guides are an important tool for individuals, families, and communities to learn about and share ways of eating well, including traditional and store-bought foods.
3. Community events will offer Healthy Eating Options that include:
 - Vegetables and Fruit more often
 - Offer a variety of whole grain products
 - Offer skim, 1% or 2% milk
 - Offer lower fat milk alternatives (yogurt/cheese)
 - Provide smaller portion sizes
 - Offer plain water in pitchers or water coolers
 - Buy or use local products when they are available (i.e.: traditional foods, etc.)
 - Include Physical Activity opportunities
 - Choose tobacco-free facilities
 - Ensure food safety
 - Choose greener options when possible
 - Encourage healthy options in vending services
4. When choosing foods keep in mind:
 - Variety is important. Providing options ensures there's something for everyone.
 - Portion size counts. Consider offering smaller portions such as mini muffins, mini bagels or smaller entrée sizes.
 - Aim for 4 food groups for meals and 2 food groups for snacks.
 - Food groups include Vegetables and Fruit, Grain Products, Milk and Alternatives, Meat and Alternatives.
